Thirty Chicago Fireman Perish.

A BIG FIRE NEAR THE WORLD'S FAIR

es Surround the Firemen at Work-Twenty Thousand People Stand Horror Stricken-A Defec-

By Telegraph to The Times. CHICAGO, July 10 .- (By the Associated Press.) A fire broke out in the cold storage warehouse just south of the Sixty-fourth street gate of the World's Fair today. About thirty firemen were caught on the high roof, the fire breaking out beneath them, and all were burned to death. Three jumped from the top of the tower, fully 125 feet from the ground nd were killed.

The fire started at the top of a cupola which rises fully 200 feet from the ground. Through this cupola a chim ney passes. The cupalo was made of wood, highly ornamented with columns and pillars. Near the top was a landing. The fire broke out thirty feet above this. As soon as the firemer climbed up the ladders to the landing climbed up the ladders to the landing and were preparing to throw streams of water on the burning portion, when the fire, which had eaten its way inside to a point below where the firemen stood, broke out with violent ferocity on all sides.

A HORRIBLE SIGHT. An exclamation of horror broke from the lips of 20,000 people gathered about the building to see the fire. Five men saved themselves by sliding down ropes. Before the others could follow the fire burned away the ropes. Those who remained huddled together on the north side of the cupola. It was beyond the reach of any ladders, and the crowd stood herovestickers and halloles to stood horror-stricken and helpless to

The flames leaped higher and highe until the men were almost concealed from view. At this moment one of the firemen sprang far out, and was dashed to pieces on the roof sixty feet below. Another and another followed his example and met the same fate. When five had jumped, the upper por-tion of the cupola gave way and the remaining firemen were swallowed up in a mass of burning timbers. Mean-time every effort had been made to extime every effort had been made to ex time every effort had been made to ex-tinguish the fire, the most of which was above the reach of streams. The entire building was destroyed. It cost $250,000, and was stored with wines, meats and fruits. The total loss will be $500,000. It was built by the Her-cules Iron Works, manufacturers of refrigerating mechinery.

It is reported that three women and several clerks in the office on the third floor were crushed by the falling cupola. A strong wind was blowing from the north. If the flames had veered to the west they would have swept di-rectly into the Administration building. The cupola in falling carried the third

Inside of the grounds the flame were confined to a warehouse and stable. Other World's Fair buildings were not damaged. Had the wind been from the south or west, most of the fair buildings would have been destroyed.

At 4:15 p.m. the fire was practically out, but it was impossible to give a definite idea of the actual loss of life until the ruins could be pulled over and the complete roll of firemen be checked. A report gained circulation after the fire was under control that, besides several Columbian guards, there were a number of visitors to the fair in the building at the time of the fire, and that they probably perished. The truth of this rumor will not be known until the ruins are thoroughly searched. The building has been on fire on two previous occasions, and each time the were discovered in the toy Chief Sweeney had made a thorough examination of the structure, and de-cided it was not properly built. The chimney did not reach high enough, and he had ordered changes made in it.

A TOWER OF DEATH.

Firemen Drop from a Dizzy Height into Depths of Fiames.
CHICAGO, July 10.—(By the Associated Press.) The fear that has existed for months in the minds of the officers of Chicago found realization to ated Press.) The fear that has existed for months in the minds of the citizens of Chicago found realization today in a frightful fire at the world's Fair that claimed nearly two score victims, and which for a time threatened the destruction of the entire White City. The disaster was all the more dreadful because of its sudden transthe destruction of the entire White City. The disaster was all the more dreadful because of its sudden transformation from an innocent flame into a deathly catastrophe. The structure that was burned was the cold storage, warehouse, one of the smallest buildings of the fair, but not belonging to the exposition. It was the exhibit of the Hercules Iron Works, an ice and refrigerating machinery manufacturing company. The building contained a skating rink, three 120-ton ice machines, some forty barrels of linseed oil, which added fuel to the flame, and there was also stored large quantities of meat, fruit, etc. That the fire was not compared to the start of the sta many thousand people who flocked to the locality when the alarm was sounded, and strong men wept and wo-men fainted as one after another of the firemen were snuffed out within full view of the multitude but beyond the reach of human aid.

ONLY THIRTY MINUTES. ONLY THIRTY MINITES.

The fire was not generally observed until 1:15 p.m., and within thirty minutes a great loss of life had occurred. At the first signal, firemen rushed up the huge shaft surrounding the smokestack, and when at the summit began preparations to fight the flames, which first appeared at this point. Before the hose could be coupled a cry of horror from the crowd below caused the firemen to look down. For the whole distance below they were encircled with

The men stood stolidly for a moment The men stood stolidly for a moment in full realization of their danger. Then one grasped a rope, which was lowered for the purpose of raising the hose, and haif sliding, half falling, reached the roof, hinety feet below, in a bruised and burned condition but still alive. The crowd below became wild with excitement, and weeping women and frenzied men rushed around wringing their bands and momaing in anguish over their inability to render wringing their bands and moaning in anguish over their inability to render aid. Suddenly every eye was turned upward by the preparations of one fireman to jump. He gave a quick, spasmodic leap, and then turned over half a dozen times before he struck the roof, ninety feet below. When the body struck the roof there was a frightful crash and it bounded far up again into the air.

From this time on bodies rained from the steeple, as, after the first wild leap, one man after another jumped in quick succession as the flames closed in from below and the heat became me below and the next became more in-tense. The very horror of death rivited every eye to the scene, and while men and women shouted hys-terically, the guards were almost pow-erless to keep the crowd away from danger.

A VERITABLE FIRE TRAP.
As a fire trap the cold store. As a fire trap the cold storage ware-couse could not have been more perfeetly constructed. It was 250 feet long, 150 feet wide, and made of wood covered with staff. The main body of the building was five stories high. In the center rose a smoke-stack in the shape of a cupola, 200 feet high. Its base was about thirty feet square, and ninety feet up there was a balcony from which rose a tower culminating in the mouth of the smoke-stack, where the fire was first discovered. In the interior of the over were wooden beams and framework on which staff was laid.

It is supposed that the framework around the mouth of the chimney caught fire from a defect in the flue.

At first it appeared an insignificant affair, but knowing the inflammable na-affair, but knowing the inflammable nature of the structure Fire Marshal Murphy called at the companies out.

THE DIFARTMENT'S TASK.

With about forty men Capt. Fitzpatrick climbed the ladders inside of the tower to the balcony, and from there ropes were lowered to haul up the hose. One had been gotten up, when the wind caused the flames to break out in an alarming manner, about ten out in an alarming manner, about ten feet from the top of the cupola. Mean-time the fire had eaten its way down time the fire had eaten its way down inside of the structure, and the all unconscious firemen were standing on the shell of a burning volcano.

The fire was burning scarcely twenty minutes, when suddenly the fiames burst out and around the base of the balcony in a perfect fury. So terrible balcony in a perfect fury. So terrible was the spectacle that the crowd stood transfixed with horror. All alike were powerless to aid the unfortunate men imprisoned on the balcony 150 feet from the ground. All ropes hanging from the tower were burned away.

One how withstood the heat how.

One hose withstood the heat, however, and John Davis caught hold of it and slid down to the main roof where he fainted. His face and hands were he fainted. His face and hands were terribly burned by the flames which en-veloped him as he came down. He was taken to the hospital, and physicians say he will recover. Two of his fellow-firemen attempted to follow him, but before they were half way down the hose gave way and they dropped into a seething mass of fire and were lost. Another man started down a portion of the rope hanging from the tower, but it gave way and he fell, striking on his head and was instantly killed. There head, and was instantly killed. now remained, according to the count of various spectators, twenty-five or thirty men on the tower. They were beyond human help hopelessly beyond human help, the longest ladder falling short by full thirty feet.

At this terrible moment Capt, Fitzpatrick's tall form appeared in front of the men, who huddled together on the narrow balcony. He seemed to be addressing his brave followers. As he cannot strekling, one of the men creat addressing his brave followers. As he ceased speaking, one of the men crept around the burning balcony and returned a moment later with a rope. It was hastily fastened to the railing around the balegay and thrown to the roof. Fitzpatric was seen to point to it, and a man started to slide down, but ere one-half of the way, was made. but ere one-half of the way was madthe cruel flames rolled up and he was swallowed in the awful volcano. swantowed in the awtil voicano. He dropped from the end of the rope and caught on a ladder which was raised to within twenty feet of it. Fire Marshal Murtwenty feet of it. Fire Marshal Mur-phy, who was on the roof, sprang for-ward and soon reached Fitzpatrick. A shout of admiration and encourage-ment went up. The heroic marshal started back with his friend, but was

The scene of horror was witnessed by many thousand people who flocked to the locality when the alarm was across Stony Island avenue, just out side of the grounds, were on fire. The side of the grounds, were on hre. The hotels were saved with difficulty, but the stables were destroyed. Less than two hours after the fire started, the cold storage warehouse was a smoking ruin. It is doubtful if any bodies will ever be recovered, so serious and terrific was the heat.

THE BUILDING UNSAFE.

A few weeks ago Marshall Murphy nspected the burned building and reported it to be extremely unsafe. On ecount of his report, the insurance companies cancelled all risks on it, so companies cancelled all risks on it, so the loss is complete. President High-botham said the Council of Administra-tion never was advised that the con-struction of the tower was hazardous. "We're all overwhelmed by the awful suddenger and become of the Wale."

"We're all overwhelmed by the awful suddenness and horror of the affair," he said, "but I suppose it will be conceded that the exposition is innocent from blame as to the fire."

When the fire broke out there were large numbers of visitors in the building looking at the ice machines and other exhibits. When the firemen rushed in there was a wild rush for the stairways and exits. In the excitestairways and exits. In the excite-ment a number of people were thrown down and badly bruised, though, as far down and badly bruised, though, as far as known, none were seriously injured. It is reported by some of the Columbian guards that a number of women lost their lives in the building. The firemen discredit the story, but tonight a lady's watch was found on a body so badly burned that it was impossible to tell whether it was that of a man or a

INSPECTION OF FAIR BUILDINGS. Messages of sympathy from the chiefs of fire departments all over the country vere received by Chief Sweeney. Mayor Harrison was almost overcome when he heard of the calamity, but finally said: "Well, this has settled one thing, the city of Chicago is going to assume control over the fair buildings as far as protecting life, a concerned protecting life is concerned, and at once. Tomorrow morning I will see that all buildings are carefully in-spected, and wherever changes neces-sary for the safety of the people are found advisable they must be made. These things must be looked to, and they will be, if it takes every police of-ficer in Chicago. It is a little late now It is a little late now. ficer in Chicago. It is a little late now but the city will take no more chances. SHERMAN EXPLAINS

The History of the Act Bearing His Name Reviewed. WORCESTER (Mass.,) July 10.—(By the Associated Press.) In a letter to Congressman Walker, Senator Sher-Congressman Walker, Senator Sherman reviews the causes which led to the passage of the so-called Sherman silver purchase law. The Senator says the bill which passed the House provided for the purchase of $4,500,000 worth of silver at a gold value. The Senate, he says, struck out this provision and provided for the free coinage of silver, or the purchase of all that was offered at the rate of 129 cents an ounce. "As conferees acting for the ounce. "As conferees acting for the two houses," he said "it was our duty two houses," he said "it was our duty to bring about an agreement, if prac-ticable, without respect to the individ-ual opinion. The result of the confer-ence was to reject free coinage, and to provide for the purchase of 4,500,000 ounces of silver at its gold price, a less amount than was proposed by the

This would have been more wisely provided for by notes been more wisely provided for by notes secured by both gold and silver, but such a provision could not then be secured. The reasons why we agreed to it was that it was the only expedient by which we could defeat the free coinage of silver. Each of us regarded the measure proposed by the Se a practical repudiation of one-third of debts of the United States and its people; as a substantial reduction in the wages of labor; as a debasement of our currency to a silver standard; as the demonetization of gold, and a sharp disturbance of all our busines relations with the great commercia nations of the world. To defeat suc policy, so pregnant with evil, I was willing to buy the entire product of the American silver mines at its gol

ROBY (Ind.) July 10.—(By the Associated Press.) The Columbian Athletic

George Dixon, the 120-pound champion of the world, was on hand, and before the contest between Griffin and Smith, challenged the winner to fight to a finish for a purse and a side wager of from $5000 to $10,000. The little colored boxer was heartly cheered when he took his seat in one of the when he took his seat in one of the boxes. Both Smith and Griffin were in excellent shape, they having trained al-

As a curtain-raiser, Jimmy Barry of Chicago and Pete Shea of Portland were scheduled for a ten-round go. Both lads are in the bantam-weight line, and went into the ring at 105 pounds. Tom Williams and James J. Corbett of California were present, When James Corbett walked through the clubhouse to a box at the right of the ring, every man throughout the entire arena stood up in his seat and yelled until hoarse. Cries for a speech were made, but he only responded by fifting his hat. He was accompanied by Billy Delaney and a number of other well-known men. President O'Malley made a fitting address, and spoke in a very sympathetic manner about the firemen who lost their lives at the World's Fair. He announced that the shab would donate $250 for the relief fund.

Corbett was loudly asked for, and, after being persuaded, jumped into the ring and shook hands with President O'Mailey. He than said: "Gentlemen: I am glad to see you all. I have come to announce that I am anxious to meet Peter Jackson. The reason I speak is because his manager, Parson Davies, is here tonight. I have here a check for standard of fight Jackson at any time." "Parson" Davies at this jumped into the ring and responded: "Gentlemen

After haranguing for some time, it was agreed to fight some time in November, and each posted $1000 with President O'Malley.

The bantams, Barry and Shea, stepped into the ring at 10:05, seconded by Harry Gilmore, Tommy White and Young Griffo. Patsy Fitzgerald acted as timekeeper. Shea was looked after by Tommy Hanley, Tom Lavigne and and James Greene. Jerry Daly was his timekeeper.

The event of the evening, in which Johnny Griffin and Solly Smith convested for the featherweight championiship of the world, followed immediately after Earry and Shea had finished their bout. A San Diego Case in the Circuit Court.

Decree of Foreclosure on the Pacific Railway.

The Mexican Agullar Found Guilty as Charged.

The George Matrimonial Tangle is Nearly Straightened Out-Judge Van Dyke's Opinion in the Martin-Smith Lease-Court Notes.

Papers on transfer of the case of Eli H. Murray, receiver of the California Savings Bank of San Diego, vs. the American Surety Company of New York reached Clerk Van Dyke of the United States Circuit Court yesterday for filing. The action is one originally brought in the Superior Court of San Diego. The plaintiff, as receiver of the bank named, alleges that on July 1, 1891, the defendant company, in consideration of $90 being paid them, did execute and deliver a certain bond in the sum of $18,000, to make good and reimburse the savings bank for damage and loss that should or might becausatined, of moneys or other personal property in possession of J. W. Collins, as vice-president of the bank, or by any act of fraud or dishonesty on his part committed while acting in the capacity of such an officer. The bond was issued to remain in effect for the period of one year.

On the same date a similar instrument was drawn up wherein the defendant company, agreed to be liable Papers on transfer of the case of Ell

On the same date a similar instrument was drawn up wherein the defendant company agreed to be liable to the extent of $15,000 for any loss sustained to the bank through fraud or embezzlement of Fred T. Hall, their cashier.

After the delivery of the bonds and before November 12 following, the claim is made that Collins and Hall deposited in the California National Bank moneys of the California Savings Bank in the amount of $193,087.46, without required authority. On the last named date the national bank suspended. At the time of the suspension of the aggregate sum, $193,087.46, there was remaining on deposit in the hands of the defunct bank, $101,654.85. As this loss was held to be due to the dishonesty of Hall and Collins, the plaintiff insists that the security company is liable for the payment on the bonds of $33,000, and he asks judgment for such a total sum. As separate causes of action the claims are based on each bond given in order, according to the sum specified.

AGUILAR FOUND GUILTY. With the same vicious look and fiend-ish smile that is wont to hover over his repulsive features, Antonio Aguilar

Ish smile that is wont to shover over his repulsive features, Antonio Aguilar sat and listened to the reading of the verdict of the jury yesterday morning, which found him guilty as charged of assault with intent to commit murder. To those who had watched the progress of the case and were familiar with the circumstances, it was evident that the result of the trial accorded with the popular opinion that the punishment to follow would be but a just penalty for an unprovoked offense.

The jury received their instructions at 10:20, and in less than an hour announced that they had agreed upon a verdict, which was soon read. Aguilar evinced no surprise upon hearing the decision, and stood for a moment talking with the members of his family. When on his way out with the deputy sheriff his insolent nature revealed itself more strikingly than ever, as he thrust his big black hands in front of the officer and bared his wrists, exclaiming, "Put the handcuffs on me, you had better." The deputy sheriff held his temper and marched the Mexican off to jall to await sentence, which will be passed on Thursday.

The crime of which Aguilar was adjudged guilty was one of the most determined attempts to murder to be found in the criminal records of the county. D. C. Richards, an old man of good reputation, was passing down Second street one night several weeks ago.

found in the criminal recovers of the county. D. C. Richards, an old man of good reputation, was passing down Second street one night several weeks ago, when Aguilar suddenly jumped out from the shadow of a building and commenced shooting. Richards begged the fellow not to murder him, but Aguilar fired four shots before he put the weapon up. All the builets struck Richards's body, and it was at first thought doubtful if he would recover. Aguilar had been living at the Richards home on the East Side, and it was believed that, through his influence, Mrs. Richards had become prejudiced against her husband, so much so as to make separation necessary. According to Richards's testimony she had more than once urged Aguilar to kill her husband. majority report.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

Mrs. Adele George has no longer need to feel that she owes the devotion of a wife to the son of the man whom she has formerly been accustomed to call husband, for in the divorce case of George vs. George, Judge McKinley yesterday ordered that a decree be granted, as prayed for, inasmuch as it appeared that both parties to the marriage had been the subjects of undue and unlawful influence. The history of the complicated matrimonial snarl, one thread of which the court untangled yesterday, is most peculiar, and more or less familiar to the reading public. The elder George is said to have arrived in the country from Texas somenine or ten years ago, bringing with him a woman whom he introduced as his wife, and a good-sized boy, the off-spring of an alleged former marriage. He located almost immediately at Santa Monica, where he has since resided, and his family has grown to comprise a number of healthy youngsters. One day he claimed to have made the discovery that the son was occupying relations of closer intimacy than those which a stepson seemed to warrant toward the mother of his children. Accordingly he mapped out, a very surprising, not to say inhuman, line of conduct. Sending for the son, he informed him that he would have to marry the woman, and at once hustled him off uptown to make sure that the order was carried out. The woman was not agreeable to the arrangement, neither was the son; but resistance appeared useless in the face of the dire threats of the elder of what would follow in the event of his instructions not being followed. The old man accompanied the pair to the County Clerk's office and requested the clerk to issue a license. This was done, that official suspecting nothing wrong. Then the father took them up to Justice Bartholomew's court, and they were married. Seeing the knot safely tied. George senior departed for his Santa Monica home, leaving the recently-married couple to shift for themselves. Young George said that it was all a "put-up job" to get him away in order that DIVORCE GRANTED. teachers in the High School development of the Mr. Trask nominated J. M. Old Mr. George was arrested later for his part in the transaction, and the divorce proceedings concluded yesterday were begun to set matters right once more. FOR THE DEFENDANT.

An opinion was yesterday rendered by Judge Van Dyke in Department Four in the cause brought by William P. Martin against Anna C. Smith et al., to enforce or secure a lien upon certain real estate. On the 18th day of March, 1887, the plaintiff purchased certain feal estate in this city from F. C. Howes and C. E. Clacius, and for a portion of the purchase price made six promissory notes payable to the vendors and executed a mortgage on the property purchased to secure the same. On the 6th of April of the same year the plaintiff conveyed an undivided one-half interest in the same property to S. D. Crittenden, said Crittenden by the deed of conveyance assumed to pay the one-half of the six notes. During the year 1888, and while four of the notes still remained unpaid. Crittenden conveyed his one-half interest to the defendant, Anna C. Smith, a part of the consideration being the payment of one-half of the four promissory notes, and it was recited in the deed that defendant Anna Smith assumed the payment of one-half of said four notes. Thereafter the said defendant himself paying one, and on the 10th of October, 1888, there remained unpaid three notes. At that time the plaintiff and defendant being tenants in common the holder of the notes demanding the payment thereof, and the defendant failing to nay her one-half the plaintiff and the tone of the notes demanding the payment thereof, and the defendant failing to nay her one-half the plaintiff and defendant being tenants in common the holder of the notes demanding the payment thereof, and the defendant failing to pay her one-half the plaintiff paid and took up the two remaining promissory notes. The action was then brought to recover from the defendant the amount of one of said promissory notes of $589.90 and the interest thereon from October 10, 1888, and to enforce a lien on her interest in satisfaction of the same.

It appeared in the evidence in the case that at the time the plaintiff took up the last two notes he took the individual note of the defendant, William Smith, the husband of the other defendant, for the amount paid. When that note fell due he surrendered it and took a renewal note from Smith and required him to obtain an insurance on his life as security, which requirement the defendant Smith compiled with. At the time of the surrender of the first note and taking up of the last the accrued interest was computed and incorporated in the second note, and the life insurance policy issued and delivered to the plaintiff to secure the payment of the same. During all this time no claim was made by the plaintiff accepted on his own motion the promissory note of William Smith, in whom he testified he had the greatest confidence at the time. He released, or caused to be released, the mortgage and permitted the property to be conveyed, and afterward took an other note of Smith, secured by the insurance policy referred to.

The acts and conduct of the plaintiff in the premises were entirely inconsistent with the theory that he interested to rely upon the late upon the light mental the interested to rely upon the late upon the

The acts and conduct of the plaintiff in the premises were entirely inconsistent with the theory that he intended to rely upon the lien upon the real property standing in the name of the defendant, Anna C. Smith, as security for repayment. There could be no question but in the first instance he relied upon the personal responsibility of William Smith and subsequently upon 'his personal responsibility secured by the policy of insurance on his life. This being so he must be held to have waived all claim to the lien on the real estate conveyed to Anna C. Smith. Findings and judgment accordingly for the defendant.

PACIFIC RAILWAY CASS.

The foreclosure decree in the Pacific Railway case will very likely be signed on Thursday and a commission appointed to sell the property of the corporation. The matter came up for discussion yesterday in Judge Van Dyke's court, when it was suggested that the present receiver, D. K. Trask, be appointed as commissioner to make the sale. To this counsel for some of the plaintiffs in the action objected, on the grounds that Mr. Trask might not be as unbiased as an entirely disinterested party. They would prefer that the sale be effected by the Sheriff, rather than that such an arrangement. that the sale be enected by the sheril, rather than that such an arrangement be made. The court stated that he would be more inclined to appoint some person other than the receiver, and there the matter rested, pending the signing, of the decree which has been submitted.

The Breath of Life.

Long life is something that most pe ple desire, no matter how many the ills they have to contend with, for there almost universally the hope that those ills may be overcome, and life unfold under different and more favorable Our scientists are already talking about the possibility of a man's iving for at least a couple of centuries, and enjoying life at that, with a proper regard to the laws of health.

An interesting and forceful writer in the Nineteenth Century, Maj.-Gen. Drayson, comes forward with a theory which attracts attention from its very simplicity, and tells the invalid world "how to get well without medicine."
His cure he calls the art of breathing, and he asserts that numerous ills, such as palpitation of the heart, pain. deeplessness, headache, etc., may be relieved by the simple process of rapid breathing, which process gives a larger supply of oxygen to the blood. Coughs colds, sore throats and other ailments he asserts that he has successfully helped by this simple remedy, and withut any medicine whatever. Such a prescription costs nothing and canno harm, so it is certainly worth the trial

A Library of Newspapers.

The city of Boston has recently erected and equipped one of the finest public libraries on the continent. It is to have a number of unique features one of which is to be the largest collection of current newpapers ever gath-

A resident of Boston-by the name of W. C. Todd has donated the sum of $50,000, of which the annual income is $2000, to be used for the one purpose of paying subscriptions for published in all sections of the Union and in foreign countries. A large and well-appointed apartment has been set aside for the newspaper reaking-room, and the Todd fund, supplemented by liberal allowance from the annual in come of the institution, will be devoted to the sole purpose of maintaining this spaper library.

A careful selection will be made of about a thousand American journals and several hundred foreign news-papers, which will be kept on file and open to the use of all visitors. In the smaller cities, only one paper will be chosen, and an effort will be made to secure some representative sheet from every section of the Union. It is intended to make the collection a conplete and universal exposition of local interest and development. The plan has never before been attempted on so Improvement and Care of the Streets Urged.

MAYOR'S MESSAGE.

Necessity for Sanitary Precaution Emphasized.

Liberal Policy in Regard to Expenditures for Parks Recommended-The "Side Entrance" Evil-General

The City Council met yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, with al! the numbers present except Pessell. After the approval of the minutes following message was received from the Mayo

"To the Honorable Council of the

"To the Hondrable Council of the City of Los Angeles: The approach of the time for fixing the tax levy for the ensuing year would seem to be a proper occasion to call the attention of your honorable body to several matters of importance to the municipality.

"The gratifying progress our city is making in material advancement and the increase of its population demand at our hands additional exertion to encourage its continuance and great care in the removal of any obstruction thereto. Burdens necessarily incidental to the advantages of municipal existence are sufficient of themselves without the addition of others that are avoidable.

"STREETS. "The improvement and care of our streets is perhaps the most important matter under the control of the munimatter under the control of the municipality, and involves more consideration and labor on the part of its officers and employees than any other branch of its government. The extensive improvements that have been and are being made are a gratifying evidence of the confidence of the owners of the abutting property who have to pay the cost, but at the same time the payment for such work is a serious drain on the resources of our people, especially at this time, and I recommend that, owing to the stringency of the money market, all unnecessary improvements be avoided until the financial affairs of our people are in a more ially at this time, and I recommend that, owing to the stringency of the money market, all unnecessary improvements be avoided until the financial affairs of our people are in a more settled condition; and I also recommend that, as far as may be, the improvement of streets be done under the bond section of the street law. Complaints are made that the bids for street work under the bond section are higher than where the work is to be paid for at once, because it is said the bonds do not sell for full value. This should not be the case. Street bonds, with the ample security given and the comparatively high rate of interest, are worth at least par, and there should not be any difficulty in placing them at that rate. In addition to other extensive projected improvements, I confidently rely on your energetic co-operation in the work of facilitating the communication between different sections of the city by means of the Temple street and First street cuits and the Third street tunnel.

"I urge upon your honorable body the necessity of keeping in good repair the improved streets, and can see no reason why the paved streets as well as the graveled should not be repaired by the street department. Such work being directly under the control of the municipality, should be better done and give more satisfaction than if done by contract.

"Complaints have been made of the insufficient sprinkling of the graveled streets as not being sufficient to preserve the surface intact and keep down the dust, and also of the imperfect sweeping of the bituminous paved streets as an to being sufficient to preserve the surface intact and keep down the dust, and also of the imperfect sweeping of the bituminous paved streets as not being sufficient to preserve the surface intact and keep down the dust, and also of the imperfect sweeping of the bitumen, by means of which the droppings are ground into the pavement and cannot be removed by the sweeper. It has also been proven that water is injurious to bituminous pavement, and I would recommend

"The completion of the outfall sewer will allow the sewering of large and important portions of the city that are important portions of the city that are now deprived of that necessity. This, of course, will involve the construc-tion of numerous laterals, the cost of which will be cheerfully borne by the property holders, and the connection with which will remove from our midst many serious causes of disease and death.

"PARKS.

"Of late years American cities have found no more profitable investment for the money of the taxpayers than in the extension and improvement of their parks. It would also seem as if the future progress of a city could be predicated from their extent and attractability. In addition to the several small grounds in different sections of the city, we have in Elysian Park a promise of one of the most delightful resorts to be found in the United States. Money intelligently expended on the improvement of this park will be well spent. "Of late year well spent.

"The increase of our population during the last three years from 50,000 to what would seem to be a conservative estimate of 70,000, is largely due to the reputation of Los Angeles as a health resort, and we should take efficient means to ensure our city against any diminution in this regard. The threat that has been held over our heads for the last year or more of the possible visitation of cholera is not to be ignored. In addition to the thorough cleansing of the streets, the proper inspection of and cleansing, where necessary, of private premises is imperative. This the Board of Health is attempting to have done by means of sary, of private premises is imperative. This the Board of Health is attempting to have done by means of a very inadequate force. This work should be done, cholera or no cholera, not once a year, but once a month at least. As it is now, nuisances can follow the inspector on his rounds as fast as he can have them abated. There should be at least two inspectors to each ward, and I recommend that it be so provided by ordinance until the city is thoroughly cleansed.

"ELECTRIC LIGHT."

"Complaints have been made to me that the Los Angeles Electric Company do not furnish the quantity of light required by their contract. This question would seem in the past to have been considered a difficult matter to determine. We should unit in seeing that the taxpayers receive what they pay for, and I recommend that the Committee on Gas and Light of your honorable body be empowered to employ experts and, at least once a month, ascertain if said company is furnishing the necessary light according to the terms of their contract with the city.

The University, which is a State bank, had received its permission from the Atorney-General over a week ago, but the directors had thought it best to wait until the bank was in condition to fully meet all possible demands. Since the Attorney-General's vicit to Los Angeles the University has been quietly adding to its cash on hand, until it found itself in an impregnable position, when it was decided to resume business.

Judge R. M. Widney was in an unusually happy frame of mind yesterday afternoon as he received the Times reporter. Depositors had been most numerous all the morning, and the ratio of receipts to money paid out on checks had been about five to one Judge Widney said the University was now in most excellent condition, and had $250 assets to every $100 liabilities. This is a splendid showing, and cannot be exceeded in any of the large money centers of the United States. In fact, the judge pointed out that all the Los Angeles banks, with the exception of the City Bank, even after a heavy run of two or three weeks, in their sworn statements of July 1 show more assets to liabilities than the big banks in New York. Chicago or Philadelphia. The percentage among the banks in Los Angeles ran all the way from $150 to $250 for each $100 of indebtedness, while that of the First National of New York, with assets of over $37,000,000, was about $130.

The Chemical Bank of New York, with assets of over $35,000,000, shows only $125 to every $100 of habilities. In Chicago, the First National, with assets of $34,000,000, shows a ratio of about 120. The crew are working diligently to have the vessel cleared by the end of this week, so that she may be ready for the reception of the public by next Saturday. Some of the bank officials of this town take exceptions to a statement attributed to I. W. Heilman in the interview with him that appeared in Sunday's Times, relative to the recent financial flurry. Mr. Heilman is quoted as saying: "After so many of the Los Angeles banks closed their doors, the president of one of the Pasadena banks came to me one evening and said, "Mr. Heilman, the banks of Pasadena have agreed not to open their doors tomorrow. In view of the action of the Los Angeles blanks, and the general weakening of confidence, we can see no other safe course." I said to him: "Don't you do it. Go back to your people and tell them that I know the Pasadena banks are solvent. All they have to do is to keep steady, and not get fright-ned."" The presidents of the three Pasafena banks are unanimous in the statement fhat, at the meeting held on the morning of the day that a crisis appeared immient, the situation was briefly discussed, after which an officer of one of the instituous advocated in strong terms keeping he banks open as usual. POMONA.

outhern Pacific's New Deal-Bad for Young Men. The Southern Pacific has made an entirely new deal in regard to the building of the new road to Riverside. The right-of-way agent was again in Pomona yesterday, and called at a meeting of the board of directors of the Board of Trade. He stated that matters were in readiness for the early completion of the road, the right-of-way having been secured at a certain cost. Now, what the Southern Pacific thought was, that as the company already had a line to Ontario, and it would be quite a gain for Pomona to bring the road here, that the people ought to "pungle up," so to speak. He thought Pomona ought to be willing to pay for the right-of-way.

The directors talked the matter over and decided that it. would be in keeping with the spirit of the town to get up the required amount. Accordingly J. E. Packard and Henry E. Strong were appointed as a committee from the board to collect the money. The committee at once went to work, and it is having good success.

This shows better than anything else how the progressive spirit has taken hold of the people. If the company had asked the amount when the road was first projected it would have been easier sailing for the Pomona people. They have begun to think that the road was coming free, or, at most, they thought it would only cost a little labor on the part of the business men in securing the right-of-way. But nobody knows what a railroad will do, and, while the people have been somewhat set back at this last move, they will do their best to new deal in regard to the building of the new road to Riverside. The right-of-way knows what a railroad will do, and, while the people have been somewhat set back at this last move, they will do their best to meet any reasonable demand. Pomona wants the road, and her business men stand ready to do everything in their power to get it.

When he does come it is expected the amount required will be raised, and work will be begun this week.

While he was there sporting in the heavy swells like a fish, he porting in the heavy swells like a fish, he suddenly became exhausted, and, realizing his perilous situation, called for help. It was a dangerous trip for a man to go alone and rescue the drowning man, but T. J. Palmer did not stop to consider this fact. He at once pushed out into and through the breakers and over the swells, to where the breakers and over the swells to where Schirmer was struggling to, keep his head above water. Laying hold of the strug-gling man's arm he worked his way to the end of the life line, and from there to the shore the rescue was made easier by the line and willing assistants in more shallow

"There is no use talking," said a representative citizen to the Times reporter Monday, when speaking of the matter of Orange county's exhibit at the World's Fair, "Orange county must not abandon its exhibit before the fair closes. One day's exhibit toward the close of the fair will perhaps be worth more to the county than a whole month's show at the opening, when everything was only in partial conditionand the California building unfinished. During August and September thousands of people will probably visit the fair to where hundreds are now going, and Orange county should be well represented at that time. As I understand the proposition the Board of Supervisors have not been asked to make a further appropriation out and out, but simply to guarantee to the World's Fair Executive Committee that they will make good the deficit, if any there be, at the close of the season, in the amount necessary to clear all expenses. It has been estimated, I believe, that this deficit, if any, will not be more than $500, and yet, if this amount be lacking it will be sufficient to cause the exhibit to be abandoned before the exposition closes. Tut'tut' that is too bad. What can our supervisors be thinking about? Is Orange county so poor that it cannot afford to raise $500, or more, if necessary, for so laudable a purpose? To stop the exhibit at any time between now and the close of the fair will be just as The Times said this morning—suicidal, to say the least, to the best interests of the now and the close of the fair will be just as The Times said this morning—suicidal, to say the least, to the best interests of the county. I think the matter certainly has not been presented to our honorable board in the proper manner. At least, it should be brought up again and discussed more thoroughly before the present action in the matter should be considered final."

The morning was given to the Southern Methodist Church, where he greatly delighted and benefited the congregation. At night he was with the Main Street Methodist Episcopal Church. After a song service led by the chorus choir and orchestra, the doctor announced his theme as 'The Need of One Rest Day in Seven.'' His lecture, or sermon, was finely illustrated by incidents from life and the declarations of political economists, philanthropists, and also from the teachings of Nemehah, an anclent governor of Israel, sent.to pists, and also from the leachings of Nemehiah, an ancient governor of Israel, sent.to Jerusalem by the King of Babylon.

Mr. Thompson had with him a large canyas, upon which was painted a hymn adapted to his subject entitled "New America." It could be read distinctly from all parts of the house, and the choir was prepared to lead in singing it. Three other paintings greatly increased the interest of the occasion. The doctor was at his best, and held the crowded congregation to the close—close of the ollection at 9:30—which amounted to about $50, for literature, to be distributed in Santa Ana and Orange county. A Young Englishman Learns Something New-Personal Mention.

A good joke is told upon a well-known young Englishman of Riverside. On Saturday he took a room at a first-class hotel and went out for the evening. It was late when he returned—so late in fact that the night clerk had retired. He went to his room, and a most necessary piece of furniture—the bed-was missing. Returning to the office he jangled the call bell most furiously. A physician living in the hotel thought surely some one must be sick, so he hastily dressed and went to the office to offer his services. He was met by the Englishman, who made his complaint to the doctor, stating that he wanted a room with a bed in it. The doctor suggested that they visit the room he had been given and investigate before attempting to get another. Upon entering the room the medico walked up to the folding bed and let it down for the astonished Johnnie Bull. "These blawsted Americans have such queer ways, doncher know."

It is an easy thing to relieve, but curing is another matter.

The following will speak for itself: SACRAMENTO (Cal.,) June 24, 1893.

AZTEC CATARRH CURE CO., San Francisco—Gentlemen: I wish to inform you that my unbelief is a thing of the past, and beg your pardon for doubting you. When we present testimonials to the form you that my unbeller is a timing of the past, and beg your pardon for doubting you.

Last April I called at your office, and after an hour's argument, gave you an order-for your-eure.

I used it faithfully for nearly a month before seeing any change for the better, but from that time my progress was rapid.

The roaring in my ears ceased, my eyes-grew stronger, the dropping in my throat and the running from my nose stopped, and I gradually ceased taking June 10, and from that day have not had a single sign of Catarrh.

My hearing is good, my eyes strong and my nostrils open and free, while my throat has healed and my volce greatly improved. I had been treated by several specialists in San Francisco and all pronounced me a bad case and hard to cure, and proved it by not curing me.

I regard your cure as a great boon to

I regard your cure as a great boon to humanity, while the mildness of the treatment alone should recommend it to sufferers. I know that you can cure Catarrh, and want all afflicted to know it, too. Yours very truly,

We cure Catarrh in all its forms without the use of instruments. All letters cheerfully answered.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.

Young Swindler Captured Who is Wanted

A telegram was received Saturday a police headquarters from Chief Hunt of Portland, Or., giving a description and asking for the arrest of Bennie Myers, wanted there for forgery Myers was arrested by Detectives Aubi and Benson yesterday. It appear that he had been conducting some swindling operations here in town, and when he was taken to police headquarters told his tale accordingly, not being aware that he was wanted in Portland. After telling a smooth story of what he was doing here, he stated that he believed he could prove his good ter, and cited the names of some ple in Portland, from which place he said he had come. He was much taken back when the telegram from Chief Hunt was read to him. Myers is a fine-appearing young man, and one would think, after looking at his picture, that he was the son of a millionaire.

was an artistic success. Prof. Lowin sky was detained at home by illness, but his orchestra furnished the music for which the Lowinsky orchestra has become celebrated, and Mrs. Lowin-ski's able touch on the plano added not ski's able touch on the plano added not a little to the evening's enjoyment. The programme opened with the Fest overture, by Latann. Miss Mabel Hudson followed, with the solo "Waiting," by Millard, and scored a triumph. A fair face, a girlish figure with a graceful stage presence and a glorious voice, these are Miss Hudson's. A more enthusiastic recall is seldom accorded any favorite than she received, and when thusiastic recall is seldom accorded any favorite than she received, and when she responded with "The Suwanee River," thrillingly rendered, the house rang. In place of the violin solo for which Prof. Lowinsky was named, Mr. Deeble consented to perform a cornet solo, "Fantasia," by Hartmann, which proved very acceptable. Miss Marie Langdon, in costume, personated "The Manlac." and the trying selection was well recited. The ball proved an attraction to a great many, and the opinion prevailed that the Liberal and Progressive Union had furnished an entergressive Union had furnished an enter tainment that was worthy of praise.

season, and the merchant who prides himself in showing you a nice, clean stock for the coming season finds the accumulations of little value to him. Other merchants, whose reputations for stability and price are not sufficient to enable them to do the volume of business during the dull months, seize upon all sorts of faking methods to delude the public and entice them into their dens for the purpose of selling them their merchandise, gathered in years gone by, under the guise of all sorts of sales. Stick to the house that you have been trading with for years, and where you have been properly served and protected in price. You know what you have received and you know what to expect. The progressive merchant has more money to lose than the fellow who is selling out or goffs out of business, because if he had made any money, and if his wares had taken with the public, there would be no necessity of his giving up what he pretends to.

Orders have been given to the heads of the departments throughout our house that when they are out of one line of goods to reduce the next higher line down to that price, but not to order any more goods except what is absolutely necessary until the fall season opens. If there is any house in Los Angeles that can sell you merchandise lower than any other, it is ours. We simply ask you to walk through our stores and examine the qualities and prices asked, and if we are not lower than any faking concern in town we will not expect your patronage.

Trading with us, you have this guarantee, that if goods are not satisfactory, your money awaits you without

We have sacrificed about $28,000 worth of Shoes to place in their stead the best line of men's, ladies' and children's Shoes that could be purchased in the United States. So far, our efforts have been crowned with success. We are selling Shoes today at $3 a pair, a thing unknown in this department heretofore, and which our competitors said we could never do. It is our aim to sell the best footwear that is manufactured at the lowest possible prices, and that is the secret of the success of our business. Shoes are made at all prices. Oxfords are made from 70c a pair to $5. We have White Canvas Shoes in stock at $1.25 and $1.98 a pair; to look at them, they are both alike, but they are made by two different-manufacturers; one puts finer material and more skilled labor on and charges accordingly. The same thing holds true in all our Shoes. We have Shoes at $2 a pair that are as sightly as those we have at $4, but the material and wear is not in them. You have to rely, to a certain extent, upon the manufacturer. The line of ladies' Oxfords that we are selling at $1.50 is the best line for the money that is sold in this town; we use them as a leader; they cost us more money. The line of ladies' Patent Tip Shoes that we are selling at $2 is also a leader with us; they cost us more to land. Our line of ladies' Kid Shoes, from $3 to $4.50, are the same grades that are sold by exclusive shoe houses at $3.50 to $4.50, are the same grades that are sold by exclusive shoe houses at $3.50 to $4.50, are the same grades that are sold by exclusive shoe houses at $3.50 to $4.50, are the same grades that are sold by exclusive shoe houses at $3.50 to $4.50, are the same grades that are sold by exclusive shoe houses at $3.50 to $4.50, are the same grades that are sold by exclusive shoe houses at $3.50 to $4.50, are the same grades that we never carried heretofore in ladies,' children's and men's Shoes, suitable for the finest class of trade in the country, and that is the class of business we are catering for. We have been selling goods in open stock at less price than you will find marked out in some of the greatest fake sales that have ever taken place in Los Angeles. Some furnishing houses have the idea that in order to do business with the public that there must be a continuous fake going on or else the public will not purchase. We have been offering gents' white Gauze Underwear at 25c for a month past; it is far superior to anything you will find at any fake sale at the same price. We threw out into our back yard on Friday forty-eight boxes of men's Underwear that had been emptied that day; this was told us by a young man in the department. We have been selling a line of gents' Neckwear for 25c that cost us $4.50 a dozen. We have been selling men's Straw Hats at 25c on the dollar of what they cost us for the past month, and glad to get that out of them; but still we are doing it in a quiet, legitimate way.
